

This is a list of companies that install or replace backflow assemblies. Summit Water DOES NOT endorse any of these companies. The list was compiled by Shareholder recommendations and/or a Google search. Please make sure to get multiple quotes to ensure the best pricing.

Important Reminders:

- RPZ assemblies are NOT allowed to be installed below grade (crawl spaces)
- They are designed to bleed water; the device needs to be plumbed to a floor drain if installed inside.
- All devices must be tested within 10 days of installation.
- The average cost for the RPZ and installation is between $1,000 to $2,500 depending on the current location.
